

I think the message is clear. "Do not call" means just that - "do not call."

Far too long, the public, consumers have had to endure the monopoly and muscle power that the telemarketing industry has had in its successful quest to invade our privacy and humiliate our call for dignity in preserving our integrity and our right to remain private citizens. Private in every sense of the word. Enough is enough and I unconditionally support the efforts of our governor.